BEWARE

...of the BBQ Joint that never runs out of Barbecue!

We hate to disappoint our BBQ loving fans but, be advised, we WILL occasionally sell out of some specific BBQ items due to our authentic, wood-fired cooking process. It takes anywhere from 4 hours to over 18 hours to cook our meats and while we have over 30 years experience cooking barbecue, it is impossible to predict EXACTLY how many people will order on any given day.

The only way a barbecue restaurant can make sure not to run out of meat is to over-produce, then refrigerate or freeze product, and microwave or re-heat the meat when you order it. It is Willy's goal to provide each and every guest with fresh out of the pit barbecue on every visit.
